

Running a Competition

- Adjudication Team

Adjudication Team

When running a competition, you will need a large team of people. You will need organizers, volunteers, and of course, officials (or in our case, an "adjudication team"). In this chapter, we will talk about what an adjudication team consists of and what each of their responsibilities are.